

Department of Spanish Studies, General Linguistics and Literature Theory
University of Alicante

Undergraduate level

LINGUISTICS 8806

Facilitator: Irma M Muñoz Baell

Workshop I – How to study linguistics?
Part II

Academic year: 2009-2010

BUILDING A GLOSSARY OF LINGUISTIC TERMS ON TERMINOLOGY...

I recommend you to start building your own glossary (words and terms to remember) with every technical term you find in the task sheets and reading assignments for this course. Here are some documents to help you think about building a glossary.

Books (available in the Campus libraries)

FINCH, Geoffrey (2000): Linguistic terms and concepts, Series How to Study. London: Macmillan Press.

FINCH, Geoffrey (1998): How to study Linguistics, London: Macmillan.

Internet

Glossary of linguistic terms – <http://www.sil.org/linguistics/GlossaryOfLinguisticTerms/>

Start building your own glossary of terms that are new to you or that you have come to understand in a new way.

Design recommendations

New Term

Source

Technical meaning

Layperson’s definition

Example
