INVERSIONS 2

HAD/WERE

1. If you were more efficient, your salary would be better.
   (1)____________________________________________________________________

2. If they were more polite, customers would feel more comfortable.
   (2)____________________________________________________________________

3. If he had been on time, no problems would have arisen
   (3)____________________________________________________________________

4. If she had served the soup before, now it wouldn't be frozen.
   (4)____________________________________________________________________

5. If they had written two weeks ago, the complaint would have been sorted out.
   (5)____________________________________________________________________

SO/SUCH

1. He worked so little that he was fired before a week.
   (6)____________________________________________________________________

2. There was so little space that passengers couldn't move
   (7)____________________________________________________________________

3. It was such a big hotel that you could get lost in Reception
   (8)____________________________________________________________________

4. He will become such a good manager that soon he will find a better job.
   (9)____________________________________________________________________

5. She drank so much wine that she couldn't find the way
   (10)____________________________________________________________________
Had he been on time, no problems would have arisen  Had she served the soup before, now it wouldn't be frozen  Had they written two weeks ago, the complaint would have been sorted out  So little did he work that he was fired before a week  So little space was there that passengers couldn't move  So much wine did she drink that she couldn't find the way  Such a big hotel was it that you could get lost in Reception  Such a good manager will he become that soon he will find a better job  Were they more polite, customers would feel more comfortable  Were you more efficient, your salary would be better.  XXXX

--------Clave--------

INVERSIONS2

HAD/WERE

1. If you were more efficient, your salary would be better.
   Were you more efficient, your salary would be better.

2. If they were more polite, customers would feel more comfortable.
   Were they more polite, customers would feel more comfortable.

3. If he had been on time, no problems would have arisen
   Had he been on time, no problems would have arisen

4. If she had served the soup before, now it wouldn't be frozen.
   Had she served the soup before, now it wouldn't be frozen.

5. If they had written two weeks ago, the complaint would have been sorted out.
   Had they written two weeks ago, the complaint would have been sorted out.

SO/SUCH

1. He worked so little that he was fired before a week.
   So little did he work that he was fired before a week.

2. There was so little space that passengers couldn't move
   So little space was there that passengers couldn't move

3. It was such a big hotel that you could get lost in Reception
   Such a big hotel was it that you could get lost in Reception

4. He will become such a good manager that soon he will find a better job.
   Such a good manager will he become that soon he will find a better job.

5. She drank so much wine that she couldn't find the way
   So much wine did she drink that she couldn't find the way